

VMRAY UNIQUE SIGNAL – TRIAL TERMS & CONDITIONS

Last Update: November, 2025

This Agreement governs your use of the trial version of VMRay Unique Signal (“Trial Services”), a cloud-based threat-intelligence and enrichment platform operated by VMRay.

1. Scope of Trial Services

The Trial allows evaluation of threat-intelligence lookups, verdict data, indicator enrichment, and limited API capabilities. It is strictly for non-production internal evaluation.

2. Trial Period

The Trial begins at activation and lasts 90 days, unless terminated earlier. Access ends automatically unless a commercial agreement is signed.

3. Restrictions

Customer must not:

- Use the Trial in SOC/DFIR production workflows.
- Reverse-engineer or extract proprietary datasets.
- Benchmark or publish performance results without approval.
- Use the service to train competitive products.
- Submit unlawful or harmful data

4. Customer Data

Customer retains ownership of all submitted data. VMRay processes it solely to provide enrichment, improve system performance, and ensure security. Data is not shared externally or used to train public models.

5. Confidentiality

Both parties must protect non-public information received during the Trial.

6. Privacy & Compliance

Customer must comply with GDPR, export regulations, and all cybersecurity and data-protection laws.

7. Termination

Either party may terminate with this Terms and Conditions at any time. Customer data may be deleted after a reasonable retention period.

8. Warranty Disclaimer

THE TRIAL SERVICES ARE PROVIDED “AS IS,” WITHOUT WARRANTIES OF ANY KIND.

9. Limitation of Liability

VMRay's total liability is 0, as the Trial is complimentary. VMRay is not liable for missed detections, misclassifications, or operational decisions based on Trial output.

10. Indemnification

Customer agrees to indemnify VMRay against claims arising from misuse of the Trial.

11. Governing Law

This Agreement is governed by German law.

12. Entire Agreement

This Agreement supersedes all previous communications related to the Trial.
